

Sedella Laderas De

THE FACTS

COUNTRY: Spain

REGION: Andalucia

APPELLATION: Sierras de Malaga

WINEMAKING: Fermented with native yeasts in French oak eggs; aged one year in cement amphora. Sulfur is used only at bottling, and there is no fining or filtration.

ALCOHOL BY VOLUME: 13.0%

THE STORY

Founded in 2006, Sedella is owned and run by Lauren Rosillo, an innovative, young Spanish winemaker who worked on projects in Rioja, Rueda and La Mancha before falling in love with the Axarquia region in Malaga. There he found a 2.5-hectare vineyard located in Sedella a quaint town of 400 people, with slate-strewn soil that he could not allow to pass him by. Located at Appellation d'Origine Sierras de Malaga, its high elevation (2461 feet), ancient field blended Romé, Jaén and Garnacha vines (100+ years old) and proximity to the Mediterranean Sea all enhance the personality of Lauren's wines.

THE SELLING POINTS

SUSTAINABILITY: Green Practicing, Minimal Intervention / Augmentation

