THE STORY

Established in Rutherglen in 1921 by Reginald Langdon Buller, the 'Calliope Vineyard' was named after the only surviving ship from the Great Hurricane of Samoa - 1889.

A.B. (Banjo) Patterson's 'Ballad Of The Calliope', tells the tale in stirring fashion. Reginald's vision of his new enterprise successfully sailing through the tempests of business and agricultural life proved prophetic. After almost 100 years Buller Wines is testament to the foresight of Reginald and is a leading winery within North East Victoria.
