THE STORY

Maison L'Envoyé is a dynamic, multi-regional wine project driven by a passion for site-specific, terroir-driven winemaking. Originally launched with a focus on Burgundy and Cru Beaujolais, the house has expanded its footprint to craft exceptional New World expressions in Oregon's Willamette Valley and Tasmania.

By partnering closely with small-holding growers practicing sustainable or biodynamic farming, Maison L'Envoyé focuses heavily on Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, and Gamay. The winemaking philosophy favors minimal intervention and indigenous yeasts, yielding elegant, balanced, and food-friendly wines. From structured, age-worthy Beaujolais Crus to vibrant, high-toned Chardonnays, their lineup offers expressive purity and exceptional value.
